Why Are You Jealous Of Me?

Words by MITCHELL STANFORD

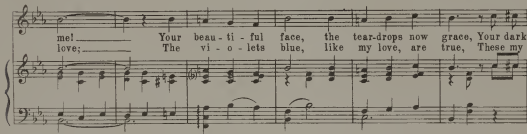

Music by EDW. J. MELLINGER

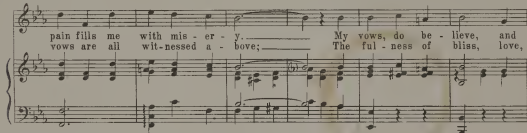

Piano introduction in B-flat major, 4/4 time. The right hand features a melodic line with eighth and sixteenth notes, while the left hand provides a steady accompaniment of quarter notes.

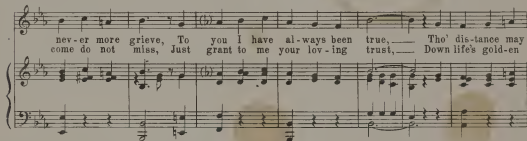

Oh why are you sad, dear, can't you be glad? I know you are jeal-ous of Gay sum-mer has come, the flow'rs are in bloom, The ros-es are red, dear, for me! Your beau-ti-ful face, the tear-drops now grace, Your dark love; The vi-o-lets blue, like my love, are true, These my pain fills me with mis-er-y. My vows, do be-lieve, and vows are all wit-nessed a-bove; The ful-ness of bliss, love, nev-er more grieve, To you I have al-ways been true, Tho' dis-tance may come do not miss, Just grant to me your lov-ing trust, Down life's gold-en part, thoughts of you fill my heart, I can't think of an - y but you. _____ stream, we shall glide in a dream, This fa - vor I beg, dear, you must. _____

CHORUS with expression

Dry your tears, the birds are sing - ing, _____ Come and lis - ten to my plea! _____ Sweet girl of my dreams, nev - er mind how it seems, Cast out thoughts of jeal - ous - y; _____ Let me kiss a - way the tear - drops, _____ Let me gath - er you close to my heart, _____ Just a smile let me see, Then a hug, two or three, Tell me why are you jeal - ous of me? _____ Dry your me? _____

Why are you, ?
