AMERICA'S FOREMOST COMPOSER

Have you ever stopped to consider what a writer's name means on a popular Song? Probably not, altho the first thing most people do after playing a number that impresses them is to see "who wrote it."

The name of

AL. PIANTADOSI

means the same on a sheet of music as "STERLING" on silver or "18 KARAT" on gold, for the simple reason that there is hardly a home in the United States without one or more PIANTADOSI compositions on its piano

On The Same Old Road. Music by ALBERT PIANTADOSI.

Lyric by JOHN H. FLYNN.
Chorus. (Slowly)

On the same old road. Mid sorrows and smiles, we've covered the miles to -

Our hearts just as gay, tho' separated lit-tle bit

The longer it goes, the stronger it grows for love. With the same old love. Sweethearts will be till part-ed. On the ev-er And just like the day when we two start-ed

CHORUS

You can't buy the sunshine at twi- light, You can't buy the moon-light at dawn.

You can't buy your youth when you're grow-ing old Nor your life when the heart beat is gone.

You can't buy your way in-to heav-en, Tho' wealth may bold-ly pow-er-un-told

And when you lose your moth-er you can't buy an- roll.
