

Deposited November 21. 1835
at the Clerks Office of South
District of New York

Are there tidings?

The Words & Melody by
J. H. Bayley Esq.

Arranged as A Duetto with an Accompaniment
FOR THE
PIANO FORTE
by
CHARLES E. HORN.

NEW YORK, Published at WARREN'S MUSIC STORE 137 Broadway.

This Melody is highly effective as a song and may be sung as such.

1st VOICE. ANDANTE. Are there tidings in yon ves- - sel, Proudly

2d VOICE. Are there tidings in yon ves- - sel, Proudly

PIANO for pia

FORTE.

bounding o'er the wave, Are there tidings for a mother, Who is mourning for the bounding o'er the wave, Are there tidings for a mother, Who is mourning for the Entered According to the Act of Congress in the year 1835 by H. Warren, in the Clerks Office of the district Court of the Southern district of New York.

brave. no no no no she is freighted with fond tidings But no tidings from the brave no no no no she is freighted with fond tidings But no tidings from the

Retard

grave from the grave.

grave from the grave.

Retard in For

2
 Do not ask me why I hasten,
 To each vessel that appears,
 Why I seem, to cling so wildly,
 To one cherished hope for years
 No No No No,
 Tho my search prove unavailing
 What have I to do with tears.

3
 Do not blame me when I seek him,
 With these won and weary eyes
 Can you tell me where he perished,
 Can you show me where he lies
 No No No No,
 Yet there surely is some record
 When a brave young hero dies.

4
 Had I watched beside his pillow,
 Had I seen him on his bier,
 Oh I must have died of weeping,
 But I cannot shed a tear
 No No No No,
 Let me still think I shall see him,
 Let me still think he is near.