ROSE O' THE MOONLIGHT

HAROLD FREEMAN

INTRODUCTION

The introduction consists of two staves of piano accompaniment. The right hand features a series of chords and arpeggiated figures, while the left hand provides a steady bass line with some rhythmic accents.

The first line of the song features a vocal melody on a single staff and piano accompaniment on two staves. The lyrics are: "I know a gar-den fill'd with ro - ses rare, Ro-ses fair grow ev - 'ry - where, You ought to see my lit - tle moon-light rose, I love her from head to toes,"

The second line of the song features a vocal melody on a single staff and piano accompaniment on two staves. The lyrics are: "A land of peach-es cream and hon - ey - moon, Love breez - es blow - ing, You ought to see those gold - en braids of hair, A smile like sun-shine,"

That's where I'm go - ing, I know a lit - tle girl who I a - dore,
It makes your heart pine, You ought to see those light blue an - gel eyes,

Day by day, I love her more When mis - ter Moon shines, why I
Just like stars in Par - a - dise Then you'd be wait - ing just the

Rose of my moon - light dreams, dear, I'm wait - ing just for you:

To me this whole world seems, dear, A Par-a-dise for two,

You know not how I love you, I swear by stars a - bove you,

You know my heart is might-y lone-ly dear, All day I wish that you were on-ly here,

Rose of my moon-light dreams, dear, My lit-tle moon-light Rose.

HAROLD FREEMAN SAYS

"I consider "There's a Heart of Gold that's Waiting in the Heart of the Golden West" the best song that I have ever written."

Try this part of the chorus on your piano.
