1. 2.

The first system of music consists of four measures. The right hand features a series of chords and eighth-note patterns, while the left hand provides a steady accompaniment with chords and single notes. Accents are placed over several notes in the right hand.

The second system continues the piece with four more measures. The right hand has more complex rhythmic patterns, including some beamed eighth notes. The left hand maintains a consistent accompaniment.

The third system contains measures 9 through 12. A dynamic marking of ff (fortissimo) is present at the beginning of the system. The right hand features a dense texture of chords and moving lines.

The fourth system covers measures 13 to 16. The right hand continues with intricate chordal and melodic patterns, while the left hand provides harmonic support.

The fifth system contains measures 17 to 20. The right hand shows a continuation of the complex textures established in previous systems.

The sixth system covers the final four measures (21-24) of the piece. It includes first and second endings, indicated by the numbers '1.' and '2.' above the staff. The first ending leads back to an earlier section, while the second ending concludes the piece.
