

I CAN'T FORGET

MY WORLD
OF DREAMS CAME TRUE

WORDS & MUSIC
BY
FRANK C. HUSTON

PUBLISHED BY The FRANK C. HUSTON CO.
INDIANAPOLIS, IND.

I CAN'T FORGET

(MY WORLD OF DREAMS CAME TRUE)

Words and Music by FRANK C. HUSTON

Moderato

f

Valse Lento

mf

You ask me, Dear, "Will I for - get When I have gone a - way?" You
The fair - est flow'rs must bloom and die; The sea - sons come and go; The ask me, "Will my heart grow cold, And cease to love you as to - day?" You chang - ing moons must wax and wane: The rest - less tides must ebb and flow; But ask me, "When the shad - ows fall. If I will love you still?" My con - stant will my love re - main, My heart is yours for aye. I

Copyright MCMXIX, by Frank C. Huston

International Copyright Secured

All Rights Reserved

heart re - plies, "What 'e'er the skies, Dear Heart, I al - ways will."
 love you tru - ly, tru - ly, Dear, For - ev - er and a day."

CHORUS

I can't for - get those dear blue eyes, That with your love - light shine; I can't for - get those ru - by lips With nec - tar so di - vine; I can't for - get your won - drous smile - The ver - y soul of you; I can't for - get that when we met My world of dreams came true. I true.

p-f

1 2

"If Huston Puts it Out, Buy it, for its a Good One"

We do not have to write a long article to tell you how good these songs are—just try them over—that's all.

Underneath The Dixie Moon

CRD
Don't Hurry Slow waltz movement Words and Music by FRANK C. HUSTON

Strolling in the moon-light, in the mel-low moon-light, Un-derneath the Dix-ie moon. Through the sweet mag-nol-ias gleam the stars a-bore, Whispering to the world their sweet-est thoughts of love, Down in lov-er's lane the flow-ers bloom a-gain, Once more the world is all in tune, Night-in-gales are sing-ing, love's old song is

rit. ad lib.
rit. ad lib.

International Copyright Secured
Copyright MCMXIX by Frank C. Huston, Indianapolis, Ind. All Rights Reserved

Maybe That's Why I Love You

Words by J. WILL CALLAHAN Music by FRANK C. HUSTON

Unse Lento
See foot note

Why does the bee love the flow-er? Why does the bird live to sing? Why does the sod love the show-er, And the vine 'round the oak love to cling? Why does a child love its moth-er? Why does the rose love the dew? I on-ly know that God made it so, May-be, that's why I love you, you Small notes best in male voice, as duet. If female voice, sing octave lower.

Copyright MCMXIX by Frank C. Huston

RAINBOW GOLD

Waltz Tempo
CHORUS Words and Music by AUBREY GITTLEMAN

Rain-low gold, rain-low gold, Dream-on-ly won-der-ful dreams. Sto-ries old, tales that were told Made us scheme won-der-ful schemes. We each saw a rainbow of dif-fer-ent hues, We longed for the treas-ures un-told, But deep in our hearts in-sad-ness we knew 'Twas nothing but rain-low gold gold

International copyright, 1919 used
Copyright MCMXIX, by Frank C. Huston, Indianapolis, Ind. All rights reserved

The Love Ship of Dreams

CHORUS Dreamily (Take your time) Words and Music by CAROLYN AYRES TURNER

Take me a-board the Old Love Ship of Dreams with you, with you, Let's sail a-way to the Rock-a-bye Bay, we two, we two, Cud-dle me close in the cra-dle of Dreams, Sing to me, Dear, the old lul-lis-by themes, And take me a-board the old Love Ship of Dreams with you, with you.

International copyright secured
Copyright MCMXIX, by Frank C. Huston, Indianapolis, Ind. All rights reserved

Ask your dealer. If he doesn't have them, we mail any one for 15 cents, any two 27 cents. All four 50 cents.

TRY YOUR DEALER FIRST.

The Frank C. Huston Co., 10 W. Ohio St., Indianapolis, Ind.